

A strong desire for repairing skills

Many of you expressed a desire to become more self-sufficient and less reliant on costly or unreliable repair services. There's a shared passion for maintaining and repairing our belongings rather than simply replacing them.

The idea of a welcoming, "cosy space" where friendly people can share knowledge was a powerful theme. You told us that these gatherings are a great way to connect with others, especially during the winter months.

The power of community

WHAT WE LEARNED TOGETHER

Building an exciting local repair movement

You gave us great practical advice! You highlighted the importance of "word of mouth" and a regular, predictable schedule (like bi-weekly or monthly meet-ups) to keep the momentum going.

We heard your questions about the qualifications of our repairers. This has shown us the importance of setting clear expectations for everyone involved and ensuring we have the right support, like insurance, to build a foundation of trust.
